

Hi Adrian,

Hope this finds you well.

I have been trying to email Lydbury North Parish Council and the Parish Clerk but it is impossible to contact them (returned mail from non working server). Lydbury North Parish Council does not exist on Google!

At a time when there is so much Planning proposed in Lydbury North I find this unacceptable, I only found out myself on Tuesday when I rang your office about the appeals being in on Monday 28/04/14

Why have all the other building plots been removed from the proposed sites around the village?

I wish to have my plot (LYD009) removed immediately from the 'Proposed Sites' list / map.

I have been told by my Land Agent that if I knock the bungalow down I will lose thousands and the only thing to benefit would be the owners of the plots (LYD007 and LYD008) next door.

I will be opposing in full all planning on these plots (much the same as the other poorly informed village).

I would like to have sent this correspondence to the Parish Council, but unfortunately cannot.

Are the Parish Council updating / upgrading their website? This would be a very poor decision regarding this crucial time when the villagers are looking for information.

There should there be a further open meeting (at a convenient time for all) with respect to the changing circumstances in the Lydbury North Planning Applications.

Please forward this email to the Planning complaints board.

Thank you, Herbie
